Description

This is an exciting piece we enjoyed making. It is a unique Lucite piece designed to look like an 's helmet for one of Google's divisions. It shows the range of techniques we use to create a piece that will delight the recipient.

There are three components: A white sphere with the front cut out leaving an open space, an imprint with the logo floating in clear Lucite that is sitting within the helmet. and a white base. Our creative team loved working on this and Google thought it was great!
