Description

Cornerstone builders commissioned this house shaped award to commemorate the project they took on and their partners in building homes for the needy. In the shape of a house, this award sports plenty of space for text and images. The chimney sticks out, and you can feel the individual bricks that we created.

The whole piece is made from crushed molded stone, so yes, this award is real stone. We can create stone awards for you in nearly any shape using this technique. Talk to the creative team to learn about your possibilities.
