Description

The custom medical CAT machine shaped stone bookend award for Samsung's CereTom was an oddly inspired design. They wanted a weighty award that symbolized their leading technology of CAT scans for both medical and veterinary use.

We suggested, designed and custom cast these matching pieces for our client. They are used either for individual awards or as a set of bookends. We shine the final pieces to a high gloss to make them stand out. They became beloved centerpieces at a formal gala for doctors and researchers.
